TWISTERS, WINDSTORMS ROCK SOUTHEAST TEXAS

Dallas (AP) — A rash of tornadoes and violent windstorms smashed into the southeast Texas coastal area Thursday, injuring a dozen or more persons and causing over half a million dollars damage.

The injuries occurred at Nederland where a pre-dawn windstorm with gusts up to 75 miles an hour ripped through a trailer court, demolishing several trailers and toppling others for an estimated $50,000 damage. Five persons were hospitalized.

A tornado that skipped into the Baytown area demolished the new Goose Creek Country Club clubhouse and damaged several homes in an adjoining subdivision. Fred Hartman, publisher of the Baytown Sun, estimated the damage would be $500,000 or more.

Blizzard Conditions Forecast For State

Locally heavy blowing snow accumulating to four or more inches in eastern Nebraska is expected Friday for the first day of Spring. A blizzard warning for eastern Nebraska and heavy snow warning for the extreme eastern parts was issued Thursday night by the Weather Bureau.

Winds between 30 and 45 miles per hour are expected to cause severe drifting.

Rain and snow covered the state Thursday bringing needed moisture to Nebraska crops.

Snow accompanied by strong northerly winds fell west of a line through Imperial, North Platte and Valentine Thursday, while the southern and eastern sectors of the state received rain in varying amounts.

Hayes Center had the most precipitation with 1.01 inches of rain. Auburn and Ord reported an inch Thursday while Minden had .99.

Up To Two Inches

Up to two inches of snow was reported in Alliance, Imperial and Sidney, while one inch fell at Valentine, Chadron and North Platte.

A. V. Nordquist, state-federal crop statistician, said the moisture was critically needed in most parts of Nebraska. He said the moisture would help get the soil in shape for spring planting, as well as providing moisture for fall crops and pastures.

State Highway Maintenance Engineer John McMeekin said road surfaces were slushy in some spots and snow-packed in others west of a line through Atkinson, Broken Bow and Arapahoe Thursday afternoon.

Zero Visibility

Portions of western Nebraska reported near zero visibility late Thursday afternoon. North Platte and Broken Bow reported visibility of a quarter of a mile. Visibility was three-sixteenths of a mile in Ainsworth as snow and blowing snow made driving conditions hazardous.

Mother Is Guilty Of Manslaughter; Fed Girl Pepper

Cleveland (AP) — Mrs. Beverly Adkins, 28, whose 3-year-old daughter died after being fed pepper as punishment, was sentenced Thursday to one to 20 years in Marysville Prison for Women.

A jury found Mrs. Adkins guilty of first-degree manslaughter Feb. 14. Common Pleas Court Judge Charles W. White passed sentence.

The child died last September. Mrs. Adkins testified she poured the contents of a pepper shaker into her daughter's mouth because the girl took a bottle of milk away from a younger brother.

WEATHER

LINCOLN: Mostly cloudy Friday with snow, generally ending early afternoon. Moderate to strong northerly winds and colder, with some drifting and blowing snow likely to reach near-blizzard conditions. Snow expected to accumulate 2-4 inches. High 30-35.

EAST AND CENTRAL NEBRASKA: Blizzard warning east and heavy snow warning extreme east Friday. Snow ending central Friday. Snow locally heavy extreme east, four inches or more accumulating. Strong northerly winds 30-45 mph causing blizzard conditions with blowing and drifting snow east portion. Highs in 20s.

AID FACES FIGHT

Johnson Offers 'No Waste' Plan

... SEEKS $3.4 BILLION

Washington (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress Thursday for $3.4 billion for a "no waste" foreign aid program he promised would be increasingly efficient in strengthening other countries to withstand communism without further U.S. help.

In his long-awaited foreign aid message, Johnson coupled pledges of money-saving in the embattled program with a declaration of need to aid others "while freedom remains under siege."

He said U.S. economic and military assistance to 76 lands can help frustrate "the grim recruiting sergeants of communism" and "build a world in which the weak can walk without fear."

11 Near Self-Support

He said 14 countries, which U.S. officials declined to name, are on their way to becoming self-supporting and will be able at some point to join the 17 others which once got U.S. aid but need it no longer.

Other nations, he said, will still require U.S. help to combat poverty and ignorance, and to maintain friendly forces along the Sino-Soviet bloc borders at costs a fraction of the expense of increasing the U.S. military establishment.

He pledged continuing efforts to boost the aid by other industrial nations to backward areas and called for greater use of private enterprise.

For U.S. businessmen, he proposed a special tax credit for investments in undeveloped countries. Officials said legislation along this line, similar to that previously proposed by Kennedy, would be submitted separately.

Apparently anticipating another battle over foreign assistance funds, Johnson stressed savings in the program and efforts to promote the roles of private enterprise and self-help in getting aid-receiving nations — the number is being reduced from 83 to 76 — off the U.S. dole.

Rusk To Testify

The first round in the annual legislative contest was tentatively set to start Monday with testimony by Secretary of State Dean Rusk before the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Johnson noted his $3.4 billion request for the fiscal year beginning next July 1 is about what Congress voted for this year after chopping $1.5 billion below President John F. Kennedy's original request. The $3.4 billion includes $1 billion for arms and $2.4 billion for economic aid.

He said he has ordered David Bell, head of the aid-administering Agency for International Development, to trim 1,200 off AID's payroll of 7,000 U.S. and 9,000 foreign nationals.

Despite Cut In Requests

... IT'S CONTROVERSIAL

Washington (AP) — President Johnson got congressional praise Thursday for submitting a foreign aid request below the $4.5 billion sought last year but there was a protesting chorus that the $3.4 billion he asked is still too much.

The wording of Johnson's message, in obvious anticipation of criticism which has been showered on aid requests in previous years, may have softened the initial barbs but even staunch supporters conceded tough sledding is ahead.

In perhaps an understatement, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, summed up the outlook this way:

"It is a very controversial program, and its passage in substantially the form requested by the President will be difficult. I anticipate there will be efforts to cut it."

Hearings

Fulbright said his committee will start hearings on the bill as soon as possible after the Easter recess.

The first hearings will start Monday, to last perhaps a month, before the House Foreign Affairs Committee, Chairman Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., said. "It will be a tough year for foreign aid," but he called the bill "strong and realistic" and told the House "we cannot go overboard in cutting foreign aid."

Morgan said, "The President's program this year is not the same old story. Operations are being tightened up."

"Too Much"

The ranking Republican on Morgan's committee, Rep. Frances P. Bolton of Ohio, countered by calling the total House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said Johnson's request is "certainly a minimum" geared to help other nations stand on their own as quickly as possible.

House Democratic leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma said Johnson was "honest and realistic" in his request and is not cutting below what is essential.

"The stakes are too big for that kind of penny ante," Albert said. "It does mean that the President is not playing the usual game of asking for more than you need in order to compromise on an amount you can live with."

Pierre Quits; May Enter Senate Race

Washington (UPI) — In a surprise changing of the White House guard, Pierre Salinger resigned Thursday as President Johnson's press secretary, with all signs indicating he will run for the Senate in California.

Johnson accepted Salinger's resignation "with the greatest regret and reluctance" and immediately named George Reedy, a longtime aide, to be his new press aide.

In announcing his own resignation, Salinger also disclosed that Andrew T. Hatcher is quitting his post as associate White House press secretary.

Named by JFK

Both Salinger and Hatcher had been appointed to their posts by the late President John F. Kennedy.

A television network reported that Secretary of State Dean Rusk also planned to resign his post after the November election regardless of whether Johnson was elected.

Rusk, who was in Salt Lake City at the time, denied the report. He said he enjoyed serving Johnson, "a great man."

There was no announcement of an immediate successor to Hatcher, the first Negro to ever serve in the White House press office. The only holdover from the Kennedy regime is Malcolm Kilduff.

Reports of differences between Assistant Secretary of State Mann and Johnson held that Mann wanted to avoid a public disavowal Sunday night of the commission's action but that Johnson was determined to go ahead, primarily because he believed Panamanian claims that the 1903 Treaty would be rewritten would stir up serious counter-pressures in Congress and U.S. public opinion.

The whole affair developed following the collapse last weekend of efforts by a commission of the Organization of American States to work out a U.S.-Panamanian settlement. They persuaded the United States and Panama to agree on a formula but not on how the formula should be interpreted or whether it meant writing a new Canal Zone treaty.

The commission published the agreement Sunday night and the United States then in effect disavowed the action. Thereafter the commission washed its hands of the mediation. But late Thursday the OAS decided to try again.

"We are gratified," State Department Press Officer Richard L. Phillips said Thursday.

Sidelined By Virus, Her Thoughts Are With Tots

Ashland—Miss Ardis Almy is not used to sitting quietly with her hands folded, and she is not too sure she will ever like it.

But after a bout with a vicious virus and five weeks in the hospital, Miss Almy must serve her time at home instead of the place she knows so well—the noisy, happy world of the Ashland grade school.

Miss Almy has taught either the first or second grade classes at Ashland since 1922, except for three years of "retirement" from 1949 to 1952.

"New Building"

"I began teaching second grade at Ashland in 1922 in the new building," recalls Miss Almy. The "new" building was completed in 1921 and still houses the elementary grades.

Though not present in person, Miss Almy's thoughts are all the excitement of the Mardi Gras in Meadow Gold's new Toffee Nut Ice Cream . . . loaded with fresh roasted pecans and pecan toffee crunch candy.—Adv.

not far from the classrooms which have been the center of her life.

"It's a wonderful age," she commented of the first graders she's been teaching since 1952. "They lose that first tooth, and such excitement! We must wrap it carefully and just so. Nothing is so precious as that first tooth."

Miss Almy's pupils haven't forgotten her in her absence, either. She received "just bushes" of mail at the hospital, and now she has returned to recuperate at her Ashland home, timid little tapplings at the door announce her pint-sized admirers.

Looks For Roses

With the coming of warmer weather, Miss Almy hopes to return to some of her outdoor activities, and even now is critically eyeing the yard for a hint of how her roses took the winter.

And it won't be long, she admits, before she'll be as restless as the children are on the day before summer vacation. Miss Almy's restlessness will be to be back among the children. Her "vacation" has been long enough.

Canyon Plunge Kills Trucker

Garden County's First
Fatality In Seven Years

Oshkosh (AP)—Garden County recorded its first traffic fatality in more than seven years Thursday when a Scotts-bluff trucker went off Highway 28 about five miles southeast of Lewellen and plunged into a canyon.

'64 Traffic Toll 86 Pct. Above '62

By The Associated Press
Nebraska's traffic death toll as of Thursday was not only higher than a year ago on the same date but it was 86% higher than on the same date in 1962, the year the state set an all time record of 401 deaths.

2-Story Building At Bennet Burns

Bennet (UPI)—Fire damaged a two-story brick storage building in the business district here.

The structure is owned by Herbert Randall and was used mainly for storage of hardware.

Fire Chief Conrad Leader said cause of the blaze was not immediately determined. He said there was extensive water and smoke damage and some fire damage.

Fire fighters from Palmyra assisted those from Bennet in extinguishing the blaze.

Boy Scout Show

Fullerton (UPI)—More than $80 was raised for new equipment by Boy Scout troop 151 at the 2nd annual Boy Scout athletic show here. The show included a troop physical fitness demonstration.

Garden County Sheriff Ray Loyd said the victim was Arthur Eckdahl, 55, of Scotts-bluff. Loyd said Eckdahl was headed north, toward Scotts-bluff, when the semi-trailer truck carrying a nine-ton load went off the highway at the crest of the hill and rolled over several times.

Blowing Snow
Loyd said the road was not extremely slippery but there was blowing snow and poor visibility. Presumably Eckdahl's rig edged off on the shoulder of the highway and he was unable to right it, the sheriff said. He was alone at the time.

The accident site was near historic Ash Hollow.

The death brings to 77 the 1964 highway fatality toll in Nebraska. This compares with 57 on this date a year ago.

Nichols Fined $50 On Assault Count

Nebraska City (UPI)—Robert Nichols, 39, head of the scales section of the State Department of Roads, was found guilty by an Otoe County court jury of a charge of assault. He was fined $50.

The charge stemmed from an incident Feb. 8, involving Nichols and his wife, 38, who runs a motel at Syracuse. Otoe County authorities said Nichols and his wife got into an argument over some papers and that Mrs. Nichols suffered a bruised shoulder and hip in a scuffle which ensued.

The six-man jury deliberated about 15 minutes before returning a verdict. Nichols at one time was head of the Men's Reformatory near Lincoln.

TOUCH-UP... Vern Lutje at work on mosaic.

Statehouse Mosaics Get 1st Retouching Since '32

A fine brush retouching of the mosaics on the floor of the Statehouse is being done for the first time since the Capitol was opened in 1932.

The ceramic tile mosaics are inlaid on the second floor of the building and have been trampled on by the soles and heels of thousands of visitors over the years.

Building Superintendent Robert Newell said they have remained remarkably intact, however, considering this and normal contraction and expansion caused by changes of temperature during the year. The work consists of cleaning out the cracks between the tile, refilling them, replacing the tiny blocks where necessary and painting them over.

Delicate Task
Vern Lutje, one of the painters undertaking the delicate task, is himself a painter of oil canvases and finds the work similar. The other painter is Bob Walker, also of Lincoln.

"This is the most unusual job we've had," Lutje said as he hunched over one of the mosaics on the tile floor. The project has been under way for a week and will take around 10 days more to complete.

The mosaics represent various scenes real and legendary pertaining to life in general and Nebraska in particular.

Texans Held On Charge Of Shoplifting

Ord (AP)—Three Houston, Tex., men were held in the Valley County jail in lieu of $1,000 bonds for each Thursday awaiting preliminary hearings on grand larceny charges for alleged shoplifting.

The trio was taken into custody Wednesday in connection with alleged shoplifting at Ord and appeared before County Judge Ellsworth Ball Thursday.

Valley County Attorney John Sullivan identified the three as Julio Lopez, Marino Salazar and Jose Rojas, all between 40 and 50 years of age.

Carpet Roll Device

He said the three were suspected of employing the false carpet roll device—a carpet roll with a false end in which merchandise could be hidden. A clerk in an Ord clothing store became suspicious of the three in connection with the disappearance of six suits of clothing from the store.

Ord police broadcast an alert and the three were arrested in St. Paul by Howard County Sheriff Dan Schenck, Valley County Sheriff Leon Klancey and the store clerk went to St. Paul where the clerk identified the three. In their car were found not only the six suits taken at Ord but 29 other suits plus other articles of clothing.

Man Is Awarded $3,500; Injured At Missile Site

A Federal District Court jury has awarded an Elmwood man $3,500 for injuries in a missile site accident.

Clarence Bucknell, 67, a painter, brought the action against his employers, the Beagle-Chilcutt Painting Co. and the Power Engineering Co.

He contended he was injured when he slipped into an access hole while working.

Old Bell Placed In Fillmore Jail

Geneva (UPI)—There's a bell in jail here.

Fillmore County Sheriff Albert Tobiasen put the bell in a cell for safekeeping. The 300-pound brass bell, which stands 2½ feet high, was reported stolen during the weekend from the schoolyard at Grafton, where it had been since the mid-1880s.

News stories on the missing bell brought a response from a Fillmore County farmer who said he bought the bell recently from an unidentified person. The farmer reported to Tobiasen who took the bell into protective custody until the matter could be straightened out.

School officials had planned to use the bell as part of an historical monument.

Stromsburg Man Robbed, Injured

Omaha (AP)—Leo V. Carlson, 63, Stromsburg, treated at a hospital for head cuts and bruises, told police he was robbed in downtown Omaha. He said two men appeared from between parked cars, knocked him down and struck him several times. Carlson said he never carries a billfold. After searching his pockets and finding nothing, he said, the pair took his wristwatch and fled.

A Very Simple Answer

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

In a recent issue, U.S. News and World Report interviews French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville in an effort to explain why De Gaulle is challenging the U.S. The answer turns out to be so simple that it is a little difficult to swallow. The answer is that De Gaulle is not challenging the U.S.; he is only doing what he thinks is best for France. In other words, it is not that he is against the U.S. or at odds with us but that he is for France.

In explaining the differences in policy that exist between France and the United States, the foreign minister stated that "it may happen that our interests are not the same as yours because we are here and you are on the other side of the Atlantic. Let's take an example—atomic armament and defense. It is a fact that our policy in the field of atomic armament is one thing and that you would very much like us to follow another one. You want us to follow another policy because you think it would be in conformity with U.S. interests. We follow our policy because we think it is in conformity with the interests of France. And we don't believe at all, may I add, that our policy is contrary to the interests of the free world or even to the interests of the U.S."

Time after time, the interview with the foreign minister is boiled down by him to precisely the same thing. It seems to boil down to an agreement that we are in some disagreement but that there is nothing wrong with this. The attitude prevails in regard to defense, recognition of Red China, growing French interest in Latin America and other subjects.

What the interview shows is French disregard of the need for a strong Western alliance based on a community of interest. This, if it is true, would represent a substantial departure from the past and a new development on the international scene.

It is to greatly oversimplify things to state that it is natural to find two great nations occasionally not in complete agreement. It is one thing to have differences of opinion but it is quite another to be embarked upon policies and programs of a very fundamental nature that are diametrically opposed to each other. The recognition of Red China is substantially more than a simple little disagreement. De Gaulle tends to treat the subject as though it were a game among children or a matter that, in the end, made little difference one way or another. Nor is he correct in his conviction that the reason we show some alarm over recent French positions is because we have the idea that everything should be the way we want it to be or that we think we are the only ones who are right.

Again, this is a rather childish way of looking at things. The real essence of things is that France has apparently decided that the world situation is such that new and different international relations are called for. It is embarking upon a plan of every nation for itself which is quite a change from the world order as it has evolved after World War II up to the present time. This is much more of a difference than might appear to be the case from a one-by-one analysis of the specific points of disagreement.

The situation is one that becomes very complex when you consider the fact that the West is composed of many free nations, not merely France and the United States. Thus, do we have a coordinated approach to world affairs with all our allies except France or do we accept the French position and begin ourselves to go our own way?

The question is an important one in matters of defense and trade. Already, we have seen the results of French, British and Canadian independence in the matter of trade. We have seen this nation making economic sacrifice in world trade in an effort to withhold the support of our economic system from the political system of communism.

The United States, however, cannot fight the world alone. We cannot pour huge sums into defense of the free world while other nations of the alliance are spending their money on and in their own domestic economy. The French feeling seems to be that communism no longer represents the monolithic giant that it once did, that because of this and other changes in the world, there is no particular reason that the Western world should present a united front. While there are some grave dangers in this approach, it is a fact of French policy that we apparently are stuck with.

It will mean a re-evaluation of the U.S. position in the world and changes, perhaps, with other members of our alliance. It is hoped that France never comes to discover that her exaggerated sovereignty has a solid foundation only so long as it is not threatened by an alien force.

French Policy On Unity

The UN Again

The value of the United Nations has been frequently demonstrated but perhaps no more vividly than in the current Cyprus crisis.

Only a week ago major war was considered only a few hours away. Turkey was ready to invade. Greek forces were willing to accept the test. Back of these two nations stood their major backers, rivals enough, themselves, to have escalated an island fight into a world holocaust.

In that tense and foreboding circumstance the UN Security Council took action. It issued a resolution against major nations participating in Cyprus hostilities. Then it revealed that Irish, Scandinavian and Canadian peace-keeping forces were on their way to Cyprus.

That was sufficient for the time to avert serious hostilities. It will take more than that before there is peace. But suffice to say that a world that was on the brink of war is currently safe again. And there is every reason to hope that the UN will be able to labor out a Cyprus settlement in the months to come.

The United Nations will always have its critics. It is a particular target for isolationists. It is at times an affront to the feeling of sovereignty of the major nations, especially the truculent sort. It is frequently in debt and often a house in which unhappy nations vent their feelings in almost unending and ineffectual oratory. But it still remains as one of the most useful creations coming out of the post World War II atmosphere. It is an essential third force which has frequently moved in between strong minded nations, patching up difficulties and averting war.

Most noteworthy is the fact that it has international acceptance and has become an institution the world does not propose to give up. It will become more deeply entrenched as the years go on.

Corn Acres Down

The U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates that Nebraska will plant the smallest corn acreage since 1887—4,916,000 acres.

This is 10 per cent fewer acres than in 1963 when Nebraska put 5,462,000 acres into corn.

The reduction is interpreted as evidence of the continuing acceptability of the federal feed grain program, based in part on farmer desire to cooperate in the reduction of surpluses, a hedge against drought, and a businesslike problem of selecting the best of agricultural alternatives.

It is hard to argue against a program which has performed so many good services, beyond the proper wishfulness for an agricultural condition which would offer security without government action.

The most that can be said for the feed grain program is that it reduces surpluses and that is a condition of first importance. It is a factor that will contribute to the lessening of the current livestock problem. Unneeded feeding grain naturally seeks a better price through feeding and in that way leads to a glut of the market by meat. A satisfactory price for as much feed grain as normal need demands prevents the infection of surplus in livestock.

This is a concept not yet clearly seen in the wheat industry. A year ago producers rejected a production control program similar to that which is working for the feed grain farmer. There is a dimming of the principle that supply and demand must harmonize. A multitude of problems arise from supplies constantly in excess of demand.

Another factor seems to weigh on the Midwest production planning. It is a lingering concern for drought—the feeling that the region has about run its course of good years and is ready for the historic weather reversal.

The best answer to that, of course, is water conservation as a guarantee of ever-normal production. That is a job that Nebraska is just into.

Crime Delaying Action

A Washington, D.C., suburb, Falls Church, Va., will hold a public hearing this coming Monday on an anti-hand-gun ordinance. Actually, the ordinance is not quite what it is labeled to be. It would not forbid the selling of guns as such but would delay any sales of hand guns to all people for 72 hours. During this time, the retailer would have notified police who would make an investigation into the character of the potential purchaser.

Contrary to what you might think, the ordinance is not an outgrowth of the assassination of the late President Kennedy. Rather, the town is seeking to prevent disturbed citizens from coming into possession of weapons with which they may harm or kill others. The community has had one case where a disturbed mother purchased a gun and killed her four children and then herself. The same thing happened two weeks earlier in a neighboring community.

It is possible that the Falls Church approach has some merit. To completely eliminate the public sale of guns and other extreme proposals that have been presented from time to time are unwanted and unworkable. It is unreasonable to attempt to regulate or eliminate major crime through control of guns and other weapons.

But in dealing with potential crimes of passion or emotion, the situation is somewhat different. These are special cases with which something might well be done. The period of delay in the purchase could well lead to prevention of serious crime that would be committed in a fit of violence or passion. The handling of the situation by Falls Church will be of widespread public interest.

Investigation Set For Beef Problem

(Editor's note—Drew Pearson is overseas. In his absence the column is written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

WASHINGTON — Clearing the way for a federal drive against meat profiteering, the Senate will start hearings next week to find out why cattle prices are getting depressed while housewives are paying substantially the same for beef.

The inquiry will be conducted by Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., who has gathered evidence that the cattleman's losses have been going into the cash registers of the big supermarkets. Not until they felt the hot breath of Uncle Sam on their necks did the supermarket chains knock down meat prices a few pennies for the housewives.

The Senate hearings will lay the groundwork for a major investigation by the Federal Trade Commission into meat prices and profits. The commission will go after the meat profiteers with subpoenas, undercover agents, and the works.

As a preliminary, here are a few of the bombshells Senator McGee plans to explode during the senate hearings:

The senator will show that certain chain stores drop out of the market when cattle prices are high, slaughtering cattle from their own feed lots. These forces prices down, then the chain stores move back into the market to take advantage of the price skid they caused.

—When cattle were selling at peak prices in December, 1962, for instance, the National Tea Company bought less than 50 head a week from the Denver stockyards. But once prices broke in late January, National Tea bought 718 head the first week, then 1,246 head, 942 head, 1,211 head, and 1,020 head. This boosted the company's profit margin in the Denver area by $163,000. Yet not a cent of this saving was passed on to the housewives.

Safeway Stores gave a cut-out demonstration of 10 cattle carcasses in San Francisco last October, showing that the company was netting between $100 to $145 on every head of cattle. Livestock men were losing between $20 and $50 a head on the same cattle. Yet the housewives never got any more than a token reduction in retail prices.

Insiders have sworn to Senator McGee that the big chain stores buy meat in such volumes they are able to dictate in advance of each sale what price they will pay, thus eliminating competitive bidding. By tacit agreement, McGee was told, one supermarket chain will set the price in each area. Livestock producers have furnished figures to the senator, charging they lost $2,500,000,000 last year—one billion of it in cold cash—while the supermarket chains rang up the biggest profits in history. McGee intends to find out why the housewives didn't share in the great meat bargain.

Lodge Managers Invade Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore. — Poll-takers of various types who rushed to Oregon from New Hampshire are confiding to politicians that again Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller are running against "a fellow named undecided." This exasperated description of the New Hampshire problem came early in the game from the senator's state campaign manager, Sen. Norris Cotton, who proved to be a prophet.

Robert Mullen, national manager of the New Hampshire choice for the Republican presidential nomination, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, arrived Wednesday to see whether he could contrive another such miracle in the Oregon primary May 15. He will find the Lodge rivals in much the same pasture as before, but he will lack some advantages he enjoyed in the East.

Goldwater has a well-financed, well-organized effort going here under the direction of former Rep. Edwin Durno and a long-time Goldwater ghost writer, Stephen Shadegg, from Arizona. Party conservatives generally rallied to the cause, which appeared at first to be the winning one. The senator's national campaigning has dampened some of the early ardor, however.

Rockefeller is here in force with ample funds and vigorous aides who include many party live wires, most of them young. They have made progress but are said to have encountered the silent protest against the governor's divorce and remarriage.

Richard Nixon profits to an undetermined degree from his former status as vice-president and 1960 presidential candidate. There is some belief that California's disenchantment with Nixon has crossed the border.

Women admirers of Sen. Margaret Chase Smith forced Secretary of State Howell Appling to put her on the ballot by petition, and she has promised to come here. There is no talk of Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania except by professionals who recognize him as a possible compromise in a turbulent convention.

Lodge's disadvantages start with the fact that this West Coast state is the farthest removed from being a neighbor to his native Massachusetts, so no spillover of name and style is possible. Nor is cold-shoulder Boston an Oregon dish. There is the usual complaint by the pros that his 1960 campaign for vice-president was not convincing.

Perhaps more important, no young Republican office-seeker here has a cadre of loyal followers with statewide experience to put at his disposal. The circumstances that his son George had exactly that to export the few miles from Boston to Concord helped materially in the New Hampshire returns. George Lodge lost to Sen. Edward Kennedy in 1962, but Lodge and his friends acquired useful friends and knowhow.

WORDS THAT GUIDE ME

Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity. . . . and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

... and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God? But Jesus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven.

And ye shall know the truth, and the truth, shall make you free.

Pure Religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and the widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

By F. P. GRAHAM

The Bible, in various parts and ways, is one of the foundations of three of the world's great religions: Judaism, Christianity, and Islam. For thousands of years, the Bible has been for hundreds of millions of "People of the Book" the source of faith and humility, strength and hope. The Bible is the progressive revelation of God in the life and experiences of a great people and the life and meaning of Jesus.

First in the Bible were the highest conceptions of one God, the moral law, and the potential meaning of sacrificial love in human affairs. Influential in life and history have been the Bible's Ten Commandments, the continuing struggles of human frailty for personal goodness, the unrelenting aspirations of imperfect human society for the prophetic social justice of a free society, the Sermon on the Mount, the Lord's Prayer, the life, teachings, joys, and sufferings of Jesus as the Son of man and Son of God.

Some passages in the Bible have precious meaning for me in the added emphasis on them in their own lives by the dearest and two of the noblest people I have known: my mother, who was the mother of nine and a whole neighborhood of children; and my wife, who was the mother of a University community of students. In their minds and spirit the neighborhood and the community came to include the world.

These favorite passages include those above and also the Twenty-Third Psalm, and I Corinthians 13:1-13.

Frank P. Graham—"Dr. Frank" as he was addressed by students when he was President of the University of North Carolina—is a man small of stature and frail in appearance. But he has been described as a "giant."

Through his distinguished service to his native Tar Heel State, the United States, and the United Nations, he has come to be known as a champion of the rights and the dignity of the individual.

At Chapel Hill, where he was a professor from 1914 to 1939 (with time out for Marine Corps duty in World War I) and University President until 1949, Dr. Graham was noted for his patience and his abilities as a teacher.

As both University president and later as a United States Senator, Dr. Graham was often in the center of controversy. He was on the alert at Chapel Hill to thwart any move to restrict academic freedom.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt used Dr. Graham's talents in a number of appointive positions including membership on the War Labor Board. After World War II, he served as a U.N. mediator in the Dutch-Indonesian clash. In 1951 he was appointed United Nations mediator for India and Pakistan.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Two Movies Draw Criticism, Praise

WASHINGTON—In movie houses across the country, long lines wait to see two films that are far from the customary froth of Hollywood. "Seven Days in May" and "Dr. Strangelove Or How To Stop Worrying And Learn To Love The Bomb" have both stirred the kind of controversy that in another day grew out of such pictures as "The Grapes of Wrath."

"Seven Days," a real thriller that tells how a plot by top brass in the Air Force to take over the government was foiled, has been attacked by right-wing publications. Noble words about democratic government and the privilege of free choice are spoken by the fictional president as he strives to hold the reins of authority against military usurpers opposed to a disarmament treaty with the Soviet Union.

But it is "Dr. Strangelove" that has set off the loudest critical firecrackers. On the one hand, indignant critics sputter that if this can be shown, as representing American military and civil authority, then nothing is sacred. Others have said that it is one of the most exciting films ever made—bitter, Swiftian satire of a mad age that reckons casualties in a third world war at a hundred million on each side.

The most pointed criticism has come not from movie reviewers but from serious commentators. They say that this wild farcical satire of the American military, a bumbling president and, off screen, a simple-minded doomsday premier will do America great harm when it is shown abroad. This, they have gone so far as to say, is a piece of propaganda the communists could not have improved upon, showing a trigger-happy America recklessly pushing the annihilation button.

They point out, too, that the film in showing a mad Air Force general starting the war ignores improved fail-safe procedures making this impossible. But "Dr. Strangelove" is, after all, a satire and its aim is to jolt the imagination and jar those who may gradually have come to accept the belief that a nuclear war would not be very much different from other wars. In this it seems to one observer to succeed admirably.

Perhaps the best answer to the anti-American charge has come from England where the picture is also showing to crowded houses.

The distinguished weekly, the economist, writes:

"Except in the sense that anyone who is already anti-American to begin with will probably read his own anti-Americanism into it (as a hot-under-the-collar adolescent will probably read pornography into 'Lady Chatterley's Lover'), this is nonsense. That it is nonsense is shown by the fact that the one really unforgivable act of top-level idiosyncrasy committed in the film is committed not by an American but by the Russian prime minister, who switches on the 'doomsday device,' thus insuring that the whole world gets blown up without telling anybody..."

There is still another answer to the anti-American charge. Except for the most uncritical audiences, who would probably not get the point in any event, the fact that the picture has been made by Americans about Americans shows that we are free to satirize ourselves. We can turn savage laughter against the folly of an era that has at enormous cost built the means of its own self-destruction.

This reporter has a vivid memory of the fantastic press conference which Premier Khrushchev held in Paris immediately following the collapse of the summit conference after the U-2 incident in 1960. At his left was the grim, massive figure of Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky. As the press conference went on, the impression grew that Khrushchev was looking over his shoulder to make sure that the marshal approved what he was saying.

Malinovsky is perfectly type-cast for a Soviet satiro on the military. But it is impossible to imagine a Soviet film laughing at the Soviet's nuclear warriors. As Life Magazine notes in an article highly praising "Dr. Strangelove," Malinovsky recently rebuked Soviet writers and artists for falling short of glorifying the romantic joys of war and the nobility of the Russian soldier and turning instead to anti-war themes.

Only yesterday "Dr. Strangelove" and perhaps also "Seven Days in May" might have stirred active protest from some super-patriots. It is not hard to imagine, in that earlier frenetic time, superheated by McCarthyist fulminations, the 35 year-old producer of "Strangelove," Stanley Kubrick, being called to account before a congressional committee. If we are in a saner mood and Hollywood is encouraged to turn out something other than froth, it is all to the good.

POSTCARD by Stan

Stan

It has been some years since I said farewell to the Fox Patrol. But I do remember that a Boy Scout is clean, brave, obedient and thrifty.

(There are other things he is but memory's service is poor these days.)

One of my thrifty moves was to plant herbs in a window box.

"For Nature ever faithful is, 'To such as trust her faithfulness."

This was written by Emerson. He had little experience in the window box line, if you ask me.

The herbs grew like—well, they grew like weeds as we gardeners like to say. The problem was that some weeds got into the window box. And they grew like weeds too.

Now I do not know whether I am chopping rosemary for the spaghetti or clipping off a weed.

In a window box everything looks alike to me. Unless it grows flowers. Then I can tell.

Nature stays in balance say the naturalists. However, women are outnumbering men—(100 to 97 in the U.S.) German matrimonial agencies are advertising in other countries for husbands.

They point out high points for the German girls—clean, brave, obedient and thrifty. Some of them are packing a little of their own money—which doesn't hurt a girl either.

There is a big outcry from the countries where they are advertising. The ladies in these countries think Nature is getting too far out of balance if you run in extra Rhine maidens. It's a problem.

In Los Angeles, Mrs. Durocher woke and found eight cows on her lawn.

They were eating her newly planted dichondra. (That's grass, man. And grass is what cows adore.)

This upset the Durocher balance of Nature. They called the Animal Regulation people who drove off the cows. Thus upsetting their natural balance.

In a lifetime of trying to tame Nature, I only came to the conclusion that you must approach it like a cage full of lions.

At one time I planted lettuce—I was sharpening a tooth for fresh salad.

This upset the balance at the supermarket where I usually bought such greenery. But it was soon put in balance by some kind of worm.

I do not know what you call this worm. But they loved lettuce.

In short order, I was back at the supermarket—(whose growers seem to have the worms whipped.) Balance was restored. Wise Mother Nature doesn't let her children down.

My own natural balance is excellent. The bank has also balanced me out—you get so much, you spend so much, you got nothing. That is balance.

If it does not balance, you can put the cuff on the banker. Ask for a loan.

When the banker loans you this money, you are in balance. But you soon get out of balance if you don't pay the loan. This seems unnatural. But to a banker, it is natural as all get out.

Hruska, Morrison Discuss Meat Imports, River Basin

Washington (AP)—Sen. Roman Hruska and Gov. Frank Morrison of Nebraska met Thursday for a discussion of meat import legislation and Missouri River basin developments.

The meeting was preliminary to a session of Midwest governors Friday, called by Morrison to urge formation of a bi-partisan group in Congress to vote as a unit on matters affecting the Midwest.

Hruska told Morrison that he believed a meat import restriction bill will pass in Congress but there will be difficulty in overcoming what Hruska said was White House and State and Agricultural Department opposition.

Hruska urged Morrison to "see President Johnson about it."

The senator, a Republican, noted that when his amendment to the cotton bill, an amendment that would have restricted meat imports, was beaten there were nine Democratic senators voting against the amendment.

Morrison, a Democrat, replied that the opposition may have resulted from a fear of hurting the wheat-cotton bill. Hruska's answer was that proponents of the amendment were anxious to have it in a bill that President Johnson would not veto.

Morrison was a speaker Thursday at the annual American University conference on business-government relations in marketing.

The governor said that in recent years consumer credit has been a subject of extensive state legislation and told the group he assumed he was assigned that subject because of national attention given to Nebraska's recent legislative acts in the field of credit and legislation in connection with the legislative acts.

"Perhaps just as Nebraska was a pioneer in settlement and development of the great national resources in the Midwest, so also it has pioneered in proper and necessary legislative controls in the lending and credit fields," Morrison said.

Dormitory Bids At Chadron Over Early Estimates

Apparent low bids for construction of a 308-bed dormitory at Chadron State College totaled some $40,000 above advance estimates, Normal Board officials reported Thursday.

However, adoption of alternatives may bring the project in line with the estimated completion cost of $1,014,600.

Apparent low bidders: general —Busboom and Rauh of Salina, Kan., $787,000; mechanical —Platte Valley Plumbing and Heating of Scottsbluff, $197,950, and electrical—ABC Electric of Chadron, $71,000.

Only the general construction bid topped the estimate. Next lower bidder on the general contract at $798,700 was Fullen Construction Co. of Scottsbluff.

'Tourists Should Know Rights Law'

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

The Governor's Commission on Human Relations voted Thursday to recommend to Gov. Frank Morrison that all tourist information material financed by the state should include recognition that Nebraska has a public accommodations law.

The law, as amended by the 1963 Legislature, provides that all persons within this state "shall be entitled to a full and equal enjoyment of the accommodations, advantages, facilities and privileges of inns, hotels, motels, trailer courts, taverns, restaurants, public conveyances, barber shops, beauty parlors, places of amusement and recreation, and any other places providing similar accommodations."

Members of the commission noted there have been reports of incidents at Kearney and Columbus where Negro families traveling through the state have been denied hotel or motel accommodations.

Violations

The commission also voted to ask the governor to investigate reported violations of human rights in connection with law enforcement at the Omaha and Winnebago Indian reservations.

A letter will be sent to the governor about the matter, suggesting that his office investigate the problem and report his findings to his Advisory Committee on Indian Law Enforcement and other agencies interested in Indian matters.

On another matter, the commission's arbitration and mediation committee reported it can find no evidence of discrimination against minorities in state hiring practices, but said its members found some "questionable procedures" stemming largely from the policy that individual departments do their own hiring and firing.

Central Agency

The commission decided to recommend to the governor that considerations be given to establishment of a central personnel agency in state government to hire persons for such positions as receptionists, stenographers and clerks.

The commission expects to meet soon with the Legislative Council Hiring Practices Study Committee, headed by Sen. Peter Clausen of Leigh.

The commission will meet April 20 with representatives of medical services, and on May 1 with business and labor leaders to discuss possible discrimination and its elimination in those areas.

Johnson Slates 33 Tax Hearings At County Seats

State Tax Commissioner Forrest Johnson reported Thursday he has scheduled public hearings in 33 Nebraska counties in the next two weeks on disputed tax exemptions.

In all cases, county boards have authorized exemptions but the commissioner believes the exemptions require a second look.

To date Johnson has held hearings in seven counties, reversing county boards in 13 of the 30 cases.

The hearing schedule, with all hearings set for county seats:

Friday (March 20)—Burt and Thurston
Saturday (March 21)—Barnes, Boone, Colfax, Frontier, Hamilton, Perkins and Red Willow
March 22—Garfield, Keith and Seward
March 23—Dodge, Kearney and Lincoln
March 24—Franklin, Grant and Nemaha
March 25—Cedar, Cheyenne and Lancaster
March 26—Humboldt, Pierce and Sherman
March 27—Arthur, Butler, DeWitt, Holt, Kearney, Phelps, Polk and Stanton
March 28—Dodge, Fillmore, Furness and Garden
April 1—Box Butte, Butler and York
April 2—Richmond and Saunders.

Dr. Nye 1st Registered Sanitarian

A 37-year-old Lincoln physician became the first registered sanitarian in Nebraska following formal certification by the State Sanitation Board.

He is Dr. William F. Nye, former sanitation engineer for the Omaha-Douglas County Health Board. A total of 46 other persons were also registered as sanitarians by the board Wednesday.

The 1963 Legislature created the five-member board, of which Dr. Nye is a member, to upgrade sanitation standards in the state. One of its responsibilities is to certify as sanitarians those persons connected with environmental health activities.

Dr. Nye is a graduate of Omaha Benson High School, Dartmouth College and the University of Nebraska. He served with the Omaha-Douglas County Health Board from 1954 to 1956.

Registration Fee Refund Said Legal

An attorney general's opinion said Thursday county treasurers can refund motor vehicle registration fees made in excess of the lawful amount.

The opinion was written by Assistant Atty. Gen. C. C. Sheldon on request from Banner County Atty. Robert G. Simmons, Jr.

The opinion was prompted by a recent disclosure that county treasurers have been overcharging for registration of farm trucks under one ton. The state motor vehicle department instructed the treasurers to charge more, believing a new state law required the same.

Hoffman Appointed
Omaha (P) — Mayor James Dworak appointed Milton Hoffman as co-ordinator of services at the City Hall. He replaces Emmet Gardiner, who recently resigned the post and moved out of the city. Gardiner has filed for election as Douglas County commissioner.

Two Recipes For Unusual Pies

This is a most luscious looking pie, too... one to make eyes sparkle on sight. Do enjoy this festive confection soon... as a family treat... as a guest dessert. It's fun eating all the way.

CANDY-APPLE CHIFFON PIE

- 1/2 pound vanilla caramels (about 30)
- 1/2 cup hot water
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 baked 9" pie shell
- 2 cups canned apple sauce
- 4 teaspoons unflavored gelatin (1 envelope plus 1 teaspoon)
- 1/4 cup cold water
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 cup evaporated milk, chilled
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice

Whole walnuts for garnish (optional)

In top of double boiler over hot water, mix half the caramels, 2 tablespoons hot water and butter. Stir until caramels melt and mixture is smooth; spreading immediately to cover bottom of shell. In same saucepan over hot water, mix remaining caramels and hot water; stir until caramels melt and mixture is smooth. Stir in apple sauce and gelatin softened in cold water. When gelatin is melted and blended in, stir in salt, sugar and beaten egg. Cook about 5 minutes, or until mixture is smooth and blended. Cool; chill until slightly thickened. Whip chilled milk with lemon juice until very stiff. Whip chilled apple sauce mixture until it fluffs slightly, then fold in whipped milk. Spoon into pie shell and chill until firm. If desired, garnish with whole walnuts.

* Or use same measure heavy cream.

Packaged lemon pie filling and canned fruit cocktail simplify the preparation of "Lemon Jewel Pie," a variation on lemon meringue pie that should find favor fast with your family.

LEMON JEWEL PIE

- 1 can (1 lb. 14 oz.) fruit cocktail

- 1 package (3 3/4 oz.) lemon pie filling
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- Water
- 3 eggs, separated
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 baked 9-inch pie shell
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Drain fruit cocktail, saving syrup. In saucepan mix pie filling mix with 2 tablespoons sugar. Add water to syrup to make 2 1/2 cups liquid. Blend into egg yolks; stir into pie filling mixture. Cook and stir over medium heat to a full boil. Blend in lemon rind and butter; cool slightly. Fold in fruit cocktail; turn into pie shell. Beat egg whites until foamy; add 1/4 cup sugar gradually, beating until stiff peaks form. Mix in vanilla. Swirl meringue over filling, sealing edges to crust well. Bake in 400-degree (hot) oven about 5 minutes, or until golden. Cool thoroughly before cutting. Makes 1 (9-inch) pie.

Easter Ham For A Foursome

- 1/4 cup light corn syrup
 - 2 to 3 teaspoons prepared horseradish
 - 3/4 teaspoon dry mustard
- Combine pie filling, raisins and pecans mix. Place one ham slice in lightly greased shallow baking pan. Spread filling over slice and cover with second ham slice. Cover. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) until done, about one hour. To make glaze, combine jelly, corn syrup, horseradish and mustard; stir. Bring to a boil. After 30 minutes' baking time, remove cover and baste ham slices with glaze at 10 minute intervals. Yield: six servings.

Butter Sauces

For Vegetables

LEMON BUTTER SAUCE

- 1/2 cup melted butter
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 1/2 teaspoons grated lemon rind

Blend ingredients together and serve over hot cooked vegetables — cauliflower, broccoli, asparagus, beets, carrots, celery, lima beans, peas, green or wax beans, spinach or zucchini, as desired. Makes 1/2 cup sauce.

VARIATIONS:

Prepare Lemon Butter Sauce and add:

CHIVE BUTTER SAUCE:

- 2 teaspoons chopped chives

PARSLEY BUTTER SAUCE:

- 1 tablespoon minced parsley

PAPRIKA BUTTER SAUCE:

- 1 teaspoon paprika

VINEGAR BUTTER SAUCE:

- 2 tablespoons vinegar

CHEESE BUTTER SAUCE:

- 1/2 cup shredded Parmesan cheese

Magnificent Easter Dessert

Whether you're planning a buffet for guests or just family at the table, Easter dinner cries out for a special dessert. For this, the most magnificent offering is a Viennese-style Chocolate Torte. The famous many-tiered cake is interspersed with tart-sweet apricot jam and rich chocolate cream.

Actually, there are two schools of "torte" in Vienna. One, preferring the Sachertorte developed by the Hotel Sacher, holds that the cake should be sliced and filled with jam. The other, siding with Demel's Patisserie, argues that torte should be unsliced and unfilled. However, Viennese courts ruled some years ago that the sliced and filled Sachertorte was the "original" version.

The true torte contains no leavening except air beaten into the eggs.

SACHERTORTE

(Viennese-style Chocolate Torte)

- 7 eggs, separate
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1 cup sifted flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 3/8 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1 cup apricot jam
- 1/2 cup instant cocoa
- 1 1/2 cups heavy cream, whipped

Beat egg yolks until fluffy; add sugar gradually, and continue beating until mixture is thick and pale yellow. Fold in flour and salt. Beat egg whites with cream of tartar until stiff. Fold egg whites into yolk mixture. Trace eight 4-inch circles on seven sheets of wax paper. Place wax paper on cookie sheets and spread about 3/4 cup of cake batter evenly within confines of each circle. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for eight minutes, or until cake is lightly browned. Invert layers on cake racks and remove wax paper carefully. Cool thoroughly before filling.

Put layers together with heated apricot jam (thin with a little water, if necessary). Place torte on serving plate. (To keep plate clean while frosting cake, cover outer area of plate with four strips of wax paper. After frosting has set, carefully pull out wax paper strips.)

For frosting, combine cocoa and heavy cream and beat until stiff. Cover top and sides of torte. Decorate with shaved chocolate.

Nautical Sandwich

A little ingenuity on your part when preparing meatless dishes turn the run of the mill entree into a real treat.

Just a simple thing like paprika can add color to a main dish or salad. Parsley can be used effectively as a garnish for almost any dish.

An adventure in good eating is a seafood cheese sandwich. In this "nautical" sandwich, lobster, crabmeat and ripe olives add delicate taste and color. Chopped almonds add just a little crunch.

Mellow American blue cheese adds a hearty flavor.

SEAFOOD CHEESE SANDWICH

(Serves 4)

- 1 cup flaked crabmeat
- 1 cup flaked cooked lob-

- ster small onion, minced
- 4 ripe olives, chopped
- 2 tablespoons chopped almonds
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup mayonnaise
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 4 slices toast
- 1/2 cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 3 ounces)

With a fork, mix together crabmeat, lobster, onions, olives, almonds, pepper and salt. Blend mayonnaise and lemon juice. Add to seafood mixture and toss. Spread toast with seafood combination and broil for five minutes. Sprinkle with cheese and broil again until cheese begins to melt.

U.S. Hikes Efforts To Free 3 Fliers

Washington (AP)—The United States stepped up its diplomatic efforts Thursday to free the three U.S. fliers downed in East Germany and again met a Russian rebuff.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk called in Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin to renew, as the State Department put it, "our insistence on the return of the fliers" whose 1966 jet reconnaissance plane the Soviets shot down March 10.

But the Soviet envoy "was not responsive to our request," State Department Press Officer Richard J. Phillips reported.

Rusk's action raised to the foreign ministerial level the U.S. diplomatic effort that was carried forward in Moscow by the U.S. charge d'affaires there Wednesday.

The Soviet foreign ministry not only has made no move to free the airmen, but it has supplied no information about the status of two of them.

One of the three, 1st Lt. Harold W. Welch of Detroit, was injured, and has been visited by an American doctor in a Soviet hospital, but the Reds have not acknowledged, officially, that they even have custody of the other two, Capt. David I. Holland of Holland, Minn., and Melvin J. Kessler of Philadelphia.

Dobrynin told newsmen, after his 15-minute visit with Rusk, that he had no information for Rusk beyond the March 11 Soviet note that charged that the RB66 was on a spy mission. He said Rusk gave him no written note.

Informants said Rusk made these points to the Soviet envoy:

1. The Russians must return the fliers promptly.
2. The RB66 was not on any espionage mission, but only strayed into East Germany inadvertently, so the Soviets will have no point in trying to create a case against the fliers.
3. Soviet failure to free the airmen will affect other U.S.-Russian relations.
4. The Soviets acted too fast in shooting down the American plane without warning.

Phillips declined to say in advance what action the United States would take if the fliers are not returned.

Hague Asks Subandrio

The Hague (AP)—Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio, often a tough opponent of Dutch policy, will visit the Hague during the first week of April at the invitation of Dutch Foreign Minister Joseph M. A. Luns.

The $16 billion industry's best customers, automaking and construction, are going strong. Sales are up to appliance makers, machinery makers and railroad carbuilders especially.

Record Not Predicted

Industry leaders, burned often on optimistic forecasts, aren't predicting record output. But January-March quarter results seem sure now of bettering first-of-the-year appraisals.

Output so far in 1964, now at a little over 2.3 million tons a week, is about 11% ahead of 1963 at this stage.

Two possibilities could cloud prospects: an auto strike, or an economy grown so rampant as to prompt government restraints. Anxious eyes also are being kept on foreign steel imports, but these are regarded as more of a long-range threat.

BIG STEEL THUNDERING ALONG

By ROGER LANE

New York (AP)—The nation's giant steel industry is thundering along at a clip seldom before matched. There are signs of a boom year in the making.

The effects are reaching out through the economy, stimulating activity at iron and coal mines, limestone quarries, power stations, and on railroad, barge and steamship lines.

A projection of steel's present pace would yield all-time high production of over 120 million tons for 1964. That would exceed 1955's record by three million tons.

8-Lane Omaha-C.B. Bridge Wins Approval

The Federal Bureau of Public Roads informed Nebraska officials Thursday it has approved the proposal that the Interstate Highway bridge between Omaha and Council Bluffs be an eight-lane structure.

Original design plans called for a six-lane bridge, but Nebraska and Iowa joined recently in asking authority to make it an eight-lane structure.

Word of the federal agency's approval came in a letter to Nebraska State Engineer John Hossack from E. Robert Anderson, Nebraska division engineer for the Bureau of Public Roads.

The move to make the bridge an eight-lane bridge developed after federal regulations were changed. Instead of designing the Interstate to meet 1975 needs, highway builders were authorized to design the highway to meet needs for 20 years beyond the

Frontier May Wait For Mail Rate Before Serving Columbus

State Aeronautics Director James Sandstedt said Thursday he doubts that Frontier Airlines will move to inaugurate commercial air service to Columbus until a mail subsidy rate it gets from the federal government is determined.

The Omaha Chamber of Commerce Wednesday urged Frontier to take immediate steps to schedule flights to Columbus in accordance with a service schedule developed by the State Department of Aeronautics.

Sandstedt said he had no inkling of the action by the chamber and the Omaha Airport Authority but that it was in line with the unofficial position the city has taken in the past regarding service to Columbus. He noted Lincoln also favors the Columbus service plan.

The Columbus case has been pending before the Civil Aeronautics Board for some time and Frontier and the Aeronautics Commission recently asked for a delay of a final ruling until the mail situation is resolved.

"The class mail rate involves the amount of subsidy paid a carrier for a specific stop," the aeronautics director explained. The CAB is negotiating this rate now with local carriers and it should be settled sometime this spring, he added.

Columbus will definitely have to be subsidized as a new stop for awhile until it can build up its boarding, Sandstedt noted. "You can't expect the carrier (Frontier) to subsidize areas which are getting new stops," he said. "Until their (Columbus) potential is developed, it's kind of a subsidized situation."

Sandstedt said there is no absolute assurance Columbus will get commercial flights but he is confident it will. "Frontier is receptive to it."

But he emphasized the mail rate "will affect how Columbus will be served."

De Gaulle Off To Tour French Caribbean Land

Mexico City (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle flew off Thursday for a tour of French territories to the east after launching a crusade for closer ties between Latin America and Western Europe.

In four days here De Gaulle paid high tribute to Mexico, praised his own country and said he could see their cooperation as a world policy "which can favorably reach far beyond our frontiers."

De Gaulle spoke with Mexican political leaders, industrialists and university students, who gave him an overwhelming reception.

A few hours before departing, he attended Mass at Mexico's famed Roman Catholic shrine, the Basilica of Guadalupe.

He paid his respects to Mexico's ancient history with a motorcade visit to archaeological ruins of the Pyramids of the Moon and the Sun.

He said he was impressed "by the resurrection of a great people and by the fact that the Mexican people have such a great past."

De Gaulle gave Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos a French embrace—a kiss on each cheek—at the airport.

De Gaulle, his wife, French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville and the rest of the official party, boarded a French jet which took off into a clear sky for Pointe-a-Pitre, capital of the French Caribbean island of Guadeloupe.

Starts Visit

His landing there Thursday night started a visit to Guadeloupe, the neighboring French island of Martinique, and French Guiana on the northeast coast of South America.

In a joint communiqué, the chiefs of state placed emphasis on the importance of the world conference on trade and development opening in Geneva next Monday.

De Gaulle promised to support Latin American countries in their desire for better treatment for their exports to industrialized nations. He also implied that France will take the initiative in increasing trade between the European and Latin American Common Markets.

Latin American nations long have complained that their trade with the six-member European Common Market has been limited because of preferential treatment given African nations.

PERU ROAD UNIT AIDED BY PLANES

Lima, Peru (AP)—Fighter planes that shot blindly into jungles hiding Indians on the warpath were credited Thursday with an assist in the rescue of a Peruvian road survey party attacked for eight days in the Amazon River basin.

The Indians had slipped silently back into the rain forests when a 50-man detachment of rangers hacked its way Wednesday through steaming, clinging vegetation to the knoll where the survey party made its stand.

A radio message to Lima suggested the Indians withdrew "because the planes, which they had never seen before, probably scared the wits out of them."

The warriors, who killed an engineer and wounded two others of the 38-man party, were believed to be members of the Mayoruna Tribe—described by a Peruvian official as "wild, naked savages still living in the Stone Age."

The strength of the war party was variously estimated from several dozen to several hundred.

The attack interrupted surveying for a 75-mile-long road eastward to the Brazilian frontier from Requena, 550 air miles north of Lima.

The rangers escorted the haggard survivors out of danger Thursday. A gunboat dispatched from Iquitos, 830 miles northeast of Lima, awaited them on the Yavari River, a southern tributary of the Amazon. All were expected to be back to civilization by the weekend.

Reds Stop Row At Moroccan Embassy

Moscow, Friday (AP)—Soviet police stepped in Thursday and ousted about 50 Moroccan students who seized their country's Moscow embassy in protest against death sentences imposed in Kabat on 11 persons accused of plotting to assassinate King Hassan II.

Soviet government authorities, at the request of embassy staff people, pleaded with the students for hours to leave but they remained defiant, with arms linked together and declaring they were fasting.

They bedded down Thursday night and planned to make it a 24-hour stay ending in mid-morning.

Resistance

But soon after midnight police got the word and took the students off in three buses. One student telephoned Western newsmen that his group put up some physical resistance to the police.

The students soon found themselves back in their dormitories.

The Moroccans had entered the embassy waving posters reading: "Liberation of all political prisoners," and "Down with Fascism."

Clearly embarrassed, the Embassy summoned Soviet authorities.

They pleaded all evening with the students who refused to leave.

Request

Although foreign embassies are technically outside the jurisdiction of local authorities, they may enter at the request of embassy authorities or of the embassy's home government.

During their lone stay, a student spokesman said officials from the Soviet education ministry told them the Moroccan government in Rabat had asked the Soviet ambassador there to have the Soviet government here do something.

But, the spokesman added, "We are Moroccans and we refuse to leave. We are on Moroccan territory. This is an internal matter and we would consider it capitulation to leave now."

Apparently the students considered they saved face since they did not leave voluntarily.

Cook Co. Given Contract For Golf Course Clubhouse

The Geo. Cook Construction Co. was awarded a $47,499 contract for construction of the golf course clubhouse and parking lot in Holmes Park.

Mayor Dean Petersen by executive order accepted the company's low base bid of $39,145 for the clubhouse and alternates of $3,854 and $4,500 for concrete sidewalks and concrete curb and gutter for the parking area.

Cook was the lowest of six bidders on the project budgeted at $56,000.

Burney Asks Drivers To Re-evaluate Habits

Hartington (AP)—Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney Thursday called on Nebraska motorists to re-evaluate their driving practices.

He said the record of nearly one death per day on Nebraska's roads and highways since Jan. 1 is a loss that the state simply cannot afford.

Burney is a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

Industrial Safety Training Course Opens Monday

An industrial safety training course will be held at the Statehouse Monday and Tuesday, State Safety Engineer Ben Zersen reported Thursday.

Carl Poedtker, a U.S. Department of Labor official from Washington, will conduct the program. It is primarily for supervisors, although anyone representing industry and interested in safety can attend, Zersen said.

Poedtker specializes in industrial safety training. He will conduct similar courses in North Platte March 26-27.

Show Is Ready--Rain Or Shine

A television production which will never be viewed in your living room but which nevertheless promises to reach a wide audience of relatives and friends will be presented on the stage of Everett Junior High School Friday evening.

The live program, "Everett Spectacular," will be "televised by" Station EJHS-TV, and is the result of long hours of planning and hard work by both students and faculty.

A musical highlight of the evening will be songs by the Everett Triple Trio, which seems to be prepared for rainy skies. In the foreground (from the left) are Gayla Anderson, Judy Rulla and Janet Filbert; at back, left, are Betty Fischer, Jane Hadley and Nancy Dinges;

and in background, right, are Linda Jacobs, Debbie Hansel and Mary Schneider.

Time To Test Dummy Play

B. Jay Becker

QUIZ

1. You are declarer with the West hand at Six Diamonds. North leads the jack of hearts. How would you play the hand?

♠ J4	♥ A6	♦ AKJ1083	♣ 752
N	W	E	S

♠ AQ	♥ K5	♦ Q9762	♣ AKJ8
N	W	E	S

2. You are declarer with the West hand at Four Hearts. North leads the queen of spades. How would you play the hand? (Assume that the trumps are divided either 2-2 or 3-1.)

♠ 5	♥ AKQ98	♦ KJ82	♣ 1073
N	W	E	S

♠ A43	♥ 7642	♦ 1097	♣ AQ9
N	W	E	S

1. With correct play, the contract is certain to make regardless of how the North-South cards are distributed. Win the heart with the king, draw two rounds of trumps, cash the ace of hearts, and then play a club.

If North follows low, play the eight. South is bound to provide the twelfth trick, whatever he returns after he wins the eight.

If North follows with the nine or ten of clubs, win it with the king, return to your hand with a diamond, and lead another club. If North follows low, finesse the jack, thus assuring the contract even if the finesse loses. If North produces the nine, ten or queen on the second club lead, twelve tricks are again certain.

2. Win the spade with the ace and draw the outstanding trumps. Then play a diamond (preferably the king, since either opponent may have the singleton queen). Assume that North wins with the ace and returns a low club (if South wins with the ace, the play is that much simpler). Finesse the queen of clubs.

If the finesse wins, eleven tricks become certain by leading another diamond and forcing out the queen. But let's assume the finesse loses to the king. In that case South cannot afford a club return, which would simplify matters so let's say he returns a spade.

Ruff it and force out the queen of diamonds. With both the A-Q of diamonds now gone you can discard a club from dummy on your fourth diamond and thus guarantee the loss of no more than three tricks.

It would be wrong to attempt to make the contract by relying on diamond and club finesses. This method of play would fail against proper defense if it turned out that North had the A-Q of diamonds and South the K-J of clubs. The only way of insuring the contract is by attacking diamonds from your own hand, being willing to relinquish the possibility of finessing against the queen of that suit.

Dear Abby

How Come He Isn't A Bachelor?

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a great one for attacking the female intelligence. Whenever he sees a driver do something stupid, he will say, "Must be a woman driver."

He claims that the reason there are fewer women than men in the professions is because a woman's learning capacity is inferior to a man's. He knocks women every chance he gets. I am tired of listening to him blame every misfortune from the Chicago fire to the San Francisco earthquake on women. I'd like to give him a real snappy answer that would shut him up once and for all. Any ideas?

DEAR ABBY: Ask him how come he didn't remain a bachelor. Like his father!

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl who is being severely punished for something I did that I don't think was so terrible. I got permission to go to a party at a girl friend's house. My boy friend picked me up at 7:30 and I told my mother I would be home at 11:30. When I got in the car, this other couple suggested driving downtown first. We noticed that a movie we all wanted to see was playing, so we went to the movie instead. We had a snack afterwards and I got home at exactly 11:30 like I said I would. Well, my mother was standing in the doorway waiting for me. She looked at me like I had killed somebody. It seemed she wanted to tell me something, so she telephoned the girl's house where the party was, and I wasn't there. She said she'd been pacing the floor for three hours. I got home when I said I would, and I didn't do anything wrong. Mother grounded me for a month. Was this fair? Just the look on her face when I got home was punishment enough for me.

PUNISHED ENOUGH DEAR PUNISHED: A month of staying home is bound to make a more lasting impression than the "look" on your mother's face. You should have called home when you decided to change your plans.

DEAR ABBY: For several years our brother has asked us (his sisters) to select gifts for him to give his wife on special occasions. He tells us what to buy and we do the best we can for the price he wants to pay. For her birthday this year we selected a lovely tapestry purse. A month later she decided it was "homely" and asked us to exchange it for another one, or to keep it ourselves. She has never thanked us for the time and effort of shopping for these gifts. She only raps everything we select. We shop in the best stores and buy only what we would want for ourselves. What should we do the next time our brother asks us to pick out a gift for his wife?

TIME WASTED DEAR TIME: Decline the assignment, and tell him why.

Get it off your chest. For a personal unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Tri-Delta Alumnae Have New Officers

New officers were named at the regular meeting of Delta Delta Delta alumnae which was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Herman Brice.

Elected to the presidency was Mrs. R. R. Burchett. Mrs. Robert Metheny was named first vice-president and Miss Betty Frazer, second vice-president. The newly elected treasurer is Mrs. Malcolm Cleland and serving as recording secretary will be Mrs. William H. Hoeppner. Mrs. Don Wickham was elected corresponding secretary.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

Bridal Courtesies

A sure sign of spring — regardless of the weather — is the increase in prenuptial courtesies honoring brides-elect who have chosen spring and early summer wedding dates.

To be the honored guest on Saturday morning will be Miss Kay Strauss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Strauss, who will be presented at a miscellaneous shower at a morning coffee. Hostesses for the 10:30 o'clock courtesy will be Mrs. John A. Brown, III, Mrs. L. F. Klein and Mrs. Carl Norden, Jr., who will entertain at the home of Mrs. Brown.

Miss Strauss has chosen Monday, March 30, as the date for her marriage to Edward T. Taber, Jr.

Honored at a prenuptial courtesy recently was Miss Susan Parrott who has announced that her marriage to Lawrence Zach of Humphrey will take place on Monday, March 30.

Entertaining for Miss Parrott were Mrs. Ron Sallon and Mrs. Lawrence Frost who were hostesses at a mother-daughter party at the home of Mrs. Frost.

Miss Parrott also was honored recently at a shower for which feminine members of

Mr. Zach's family were hostesses at Humphrey.

An April bride-to-be who was honored last Sunday afternoon is Miss Sandra Jane Aden, who was presented at a party given by Mrs. William G. Littlejohn of Tecumseh, Mrs. Harvey Giesmann of Sterling, and Mrs. Martha Littlejohn of Adams. The guests included feminine members of Miss Aden's family.

Miss Aden, who will become the bride of Garrett Eden on Sunday, April 19, also was the guest of honor recently at a party given by former classmates at Sterling High School. The courtesy was held at the home of Mrs. Walter Boden in Sterling.

An honoree last Monday evening was Miss Joan Walters who will become the bride of Bernie A. Husa of Beatrice on Saturday, April 4.

In courtesy to the soon-to-be bride, Miss Phyllis Neal and Mrs. Fern Edmund were hostesses at a kitchen shower held at the home of Miss Samuelson. The 13 guests included Court House office co-workers of the honoree.

April Bride-Elect Is Honored

Entertaining at a prenuptial courtesy on Tuesday evening were Miss Judith Waples, Miss Nancy Nebelsick, Miss Kay Ganzel and Miss Lois Schmidt, who were hostesses to 25 guests honoring a spring bride-elect.

The honored guest was Miss Shirley Rubenking, who will become the bride of A. 2C Robert Ware of the Lincoln Air Force Base, on Saturday, April 4.

Pictured at the party, during which a linen shower was presented to Miss Rubenking, are (seated, from the left) Miss Schmidt, Mrs. Mary Rodaway, Miss Rubenking and her mother, Mrs. William Rubenking of Syracuse; and (standing) Miss Ganzel, Miss Nebelsick and Miss Waples.

Suburbia Plans For Easter

MEADOW LANE

This seems to be a week of indecision for many suburban residents and the problem seems to be the forthcoming Easter vacation and where to spend it.

Members of the younger generation seem to have ideas of their own. Their parents may be busy making preparations to visit relatives, but to the junior set there could be nothing better than a weekend jaunt to Florida or some other exciting locale.

Needless to say, however, the youngsters have compromised with their families and are busy getting ready for visits to and from relatives.

bach and their son, Jeff, will be traveling to Aurora on Easter Sunday where they will be visiting with Mrs. Beckenbach's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beins.

The Beckenbach family will be returning to their home that same evening.

Colorado will be the point of destination for Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smith and their children Joleen and Jeffrey, during Easter vacation. They will be visiting with Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Dunn in Holyoke.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith and their children will be departing Lincoln next Thursday and will be returning home the following Monday.

guests this past weekend were Meadow Lane residents. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kaelin and their children, Dannie, Debbie, Dixie, Diana, Denise and Douglas.

Their visitors who arrived on Friday were Mr. Kaelin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Kaelin from Ansley. They were the guests of their son and daughter-in-law and family until Sunday.

Motoring to Geneva last Sunday were the members of the Jerome Fleck family. Mr. and Mrs. Fleck and their two children, Mike and Elizabeth, were the guests of Mrs. Fleck's brother and sister-in-law and family. Mr. and Mrs. David Clark at a pre-Easter dinner.

tending were Mrs. Fleck's mother and children, Mrs. Mary Clark and Cindy, Denny and Jackie and Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Livings and son Tom.

A bridge hostess in the Meadow Lane area on Thursday evening was Mrs. Arthur Taylor. Her guests for the evening of cards and a dessert supper were Mrs. Ken Dermann, Mrs. John Reta, Mrs. Richard Klaas, Mrs. H. L. Graham, Mrs. Floyd Thompson, Mrs. Elmer Harrison and Mrs. Marion Packett.

And the Meadow Lane home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Kitrell and their sons, Danny and Doug, will be a hub of activity on Sunday when they will entertain at a dinner in honor of Mrs. Kitrell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Opp who will be celebrating their 51st wedding anniversary.

On the guests list will be Mr. and Mrs. Milbert Opp, Mr. and Mrs. William Whitmer and daughter, Lori, Mr. and Mrs. Del Halada and children, Mrs. Loretta Liebold and son Richard, and Mr. and Mrs. James Mason.

EASTMONT

An out-of-town guest at the home of Mrs. Charles Pelican this week is her aunt, Mrs. Jenny Wilson of Kearney.

Mrs. Wilson arrived in Lincoln on Monday and will be returning to her home today.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the number in the left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. Fresh In Federation

Four Nebraska freshmen who made creditable showings in the Kansas State Relays last weekend at Manhattan, Kan., will be among the performers in Saturday's Nebraska Track and Field Federation meet at the NU indoor plant.

The Husker freshman contingent is led by Charles Greene, an unlikely-looking track champion. But the bespectacled sprinter already has run with the best, pushing Robert Hayes to a 5.9 clocking over the 60-yard route a month ago.

Greene, along with NU frosh Tom Millsap, Jim Ryan and Lowell Stratton competed in the freshman and junior college divisions of the K-State Relays.

Greene tied a meet and Ahearn Fieldhouse record in winning the 75-yard dash with a 7.3 clocking. Roger Sayers first set the record as a freshman and the Omaha U. flash ran the same time in winning the University division 75-yard dash Saturday night.

Teammate Millsap finished second in the 75-yard dash to Greene. Ryan, a middle distance ace from New York City, finished second in the 600 with a 1:14.3 and Stratton was second in the mile with a 4:21.3, less than two seconds off the winning time.

Capitalizing On Clay

A national record club is trying to capitalize on Cassius Clay's status as heavyweight champion. The record club has included a flyer in its monthly mailing making the record available to its members for the first time.

Having heard the record, our advice to members of the record club is to save your free coupons for the Beatles. If you don't hate Cassius now, you will after listening to the record.

The recording is divided into eight rounds and the quietest thing on either side is the sound of the bell to start and end each round.

Below Par On Expenses

Nebraska, a state noted for its thriftiness, didn't destroy that image when the Big Eight Conference office released the figure for NU expenses in the Orange Bowl this year.

The Huskers spent $95,816 on its Orange Bowl trip, slightly below the budget and just about par for the Miami cruise.

The official Scarlet and Cream party spent $39,500 on travel expenses and $24,046 to send the 114-member band. And the Husker figure was near what other teams have spent despite going down four days earlier than any other Big Eight team.

Dangerous Ballot

When a wide difference of opinion cropped up during the past season as to how Oklahoma City's basketball team should make one of its trips the past season, coach Abe Lemons proposed that it be left up to the team.

But seven-footer Eddie Jackson warned the colorful coach against such a vote. "Last time some school took such a ballot, the players voted out the coach," warned Jackson.

New Oklahoma coach Gomer Jones apparently has inherited from predecessor Bud Wilkinson a liking for Texas gridders.

Rice assistant Red Bales reports, "The Longhorns didn't do real well recruiting in West Texas this year, and neither did we. TCU did all right, and Oklahoma got more of the top boys than they've been getting."

Dodgers Hike Skein As Braves Fall, 5-4

By Associated Press

The Los Angeles Dodgers remained unbeaten in exhibition games against a major league opposition Thursday, with a 5-4 victory over the Milwaukee Braves. The loss ended a four-game winning streak for the Braves.

The San Francisco Giants ran their spring record to 10-1, and the St. Louis Cardinals made their state 5-1, with victories Thursday.

The Giants and the Cards are expected to pose the major threats to the hopes of the Dodgers to repeat as National League champions. The Giants scratched out a 15-12 victory over the Los Angeles Angels at Phoenix. St. Louis defeated the Cincinnati Reds 3-2.

Six other games were played.

The New York Mets whipped the Detroit Tigers 5-0, the New York Yankees took Pittsburgh 2-0 and Houston beat the Chicago White Sox 1-0 in 12 innings.

Philadelphia defeated Washington 3-1, Baltimore tripped Minnesota 6-2 and Cleveland took Boston 17-10.

The Dodgers won their third, downing Milwaukee by putting down a ninth inning rally. Warren Spahn, who beat the Dodgers four straight last year in regular season play, went five innings and was the losing pitcher.

The Giants and Angels had 37 hits between them before San Francisco power won out. St. Louis right-hander Ray Washburn, who suffered a torn arm muscle after a great start last season, survived a shaky start after the Reds and struck out four men in a three-inning stint.

Topped Money List

Billy Haughton of Old Brookville, N.Y., led the nation's harness race drivers in 1963 in money winnings with $750,000.

Pitchers Carl Willey, Craig Anderson and Ron Locke held the Tigers to three hits and Billy Haas, obtained from the Dodgers in the help-the-poor draft hit a two-run homer for the Mets.

Roger Maris singled one run across and scored the second on a passed ball for the only runs in the Yankee-Pirates game. Bob Bailey got four-for-four for the Pirates, to make it 10 straight hits and an average of .786 for the spring.

Eddie Kasko's 12th inning double drove home the only run in the Colts-White Sox game. Nellie Fox started for Houston against his old mates and contributed a double and a fielding gem.

Art Mahaffey and Gary Kroll struck out 14 Washington batters, and Richie Allen and Bobby Wine homered for the Phils.

Dick Brown led the Baltimore attack with a homer and two doubles. John Powell and Willie Kirkland also homered.

Kansas City (K)—A sampling of opinion at the National Basketball Coaches Association convention Thursday showed the coaches unanimous on only one point—the NCAA basketball championships is a wide open affair.

Duke and Michigan got heavy support from the coaches contacted in an informal poll, undefeated UCLA drew a couple of votes and Kansas State was mentioned by two. "If it plays the way it did against Wichita,"

And Bob Lukata of DePaul said he couldn't make a choice.

SNEAD LEADS DORAL

Sam Satisfied With 1st Round

... DESPITE POOR PUTTING

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Slammin' Sammy Snead, who has been mining gold on the world's golf courses for 33 years, belted a four-under-par 68 Thursday to stake his first round claim on another big prize in the $50,000 Doral Open.

The 51-year-old Snead missed five short birdie putts, but he wasn't surprised.

Although he is credited with 113 championships in his long career, he grumbled: "I still can't putt."

However, his wood and iron play still were fancy enough to show the game's youngsters a thing or two as he took a one-stroke lead in the battle for the winner's $7,500 paycheck.

5 Trail

Trailing Snead with 69s were Mike Souchak, Dave Hill, Bob Shave Jr., Bert Yancey, Ken Venturi and Al Lopez Sr.

Playing with Jack Nicklaus,

the top money winner of 1964, Snead said:

"With any luck on the greens, Jack and I would have done better. But I'm satisfied. Anytime you get a 68 on the 'Blue Monster' you're doing all right."

He referred to the 7,028-yard Blue Course at the Doral Country Club, which has been dubbed "The Monster" because of the gapping water hazards at every hole and the tricky winds that blow almost every day.

Nicklaus, taking a 70, said: "I didn't drive well. My iron shots were only fair, and my putting was terrible." He three-putted four greens.

Arnold Palmer, trying to break his longest victory drought since 1956, shot a three-over-par 39 on the first nine and settled for an even-par 72.

Player Jinxed

One of the course's big victims was Gary Player, who took a sickening double-bogey seven on the eighth hole, his third at that same spot in two years.

"That hole" Player exclaimed. "My word! I average seven at that hole."

Player's card was 73.

Player, who beat Palmer and Miller Barber in a playoff at Pensacola two weeks ago for his first victory in 14 months, also saw six heart-breaking putts come to a stop on the rim of the cup.

Souchak and Shave scored eagles.

Souchak, who hasn't won a tournament since 1961, got his on the 533-yard first hole by running down a 20-foot putt. He saved his good score by coming out of traps to par the 17th and 18th.

Shave eagled the 10th with a 34-foot putt. The exact distance is known because he carefully paces off all of his long ones. He got this one with a pendulum-style putter, which he swings between his legs like a croquet mallet and calls "the last straw."

There's nothing to pick."

The semifinals are scheduled Friday night with Atlantic Coast Conference champion Duke, 25-4, playing Big Ten co-champion Michigan, 22-4, in the opener. Top-ranked UCLA, 28-0, takes on Big Eight boss Kansas State, 22-5, in the nightcap.

The winners meet for the title Saturday night in Kansas City's Municipal Auditorium.

Here's a sampling of comment from some of the approximately 700 coaches from throughout the country who are holding their annual convention in connection with the NCAA championships:

Frank McGuire, South

Carolina: "I have to go with Duke. They've got the size and speed, a tough rebounding team. And they were in the semifinals last year. They got their feet wet."

Jack Kraft, Villanova: "I'm not that impressed with Duke's two big boys. Michigan is awfully strong on the boards. I'd say Michigan and Kansas State in the finals. On a guess, I'll take Michigan."

UCLA 'Refreshed'

George Faherty, Adelphi: "The team that is refreshed, that hasn't passed it's peak should win it. John Wooden has brought his team along just right. I'd say UCLA."

Don Smith, Elizabethtown College: "It's a hard choice to make. I'd pick Duke."

Doggie Julian, Dartmouth: "This is one of the closest fields I've ever seen. UCLA is unbeaten. Lots of people like Kansas State. Michigan is so strong. Duke is big. Let's say the team that beats Duke wins it."

Red McManus, Creighton: "Michigan, because of their power, their physical strength."

Ralph Miller, Wichita: "I tend to go with Michigan. They've got the good rebounding and are a solid team. If Kansas State plays the way they did against us, they'll win it, but I don't think they can continue to play that well."

Kansas State upset Wichita 94-86 for the midwest regional title.

Tex Winter, Kansas State: "Kansas State."

Junior Wrestling Meet Set Tonight

... AT SALVATION ARMY

By HAL FOSTER

Star Sports Writer

Wrestling fans can glimpse a preview of future Lincoln high school talent Friday and Saturday at the Salvation Army Community Center's Fourth Annual Junior Tournament at 1645 North 27th.

Tournament director Randy Streton said Thursday that about 80 boys between eight and 14 would be competing in 11 weight classes ranging from 50 pounds to heavyweight (over 149 pounds).

Streton, who directed a league at the Community Center this year along with former U.S. amateur wrestling star Newt Copple, Bob Mancuso of the University of Nebraska and Al Hawthorne of the City Recreation Department, said the wrestlers have been well trained.

"We will have teams from the Fremont YMCA, the Schuyler school system, the Lincoln Central Y and many unattached wrestlers as well as our own team," he said, "and we certainly don't want any inexperienced youngsters to come here and get hurt competing against experienced boys."

Streton said the champions in each division would comprise a team which will wrestle an Omaha team next Wednesday at Bishop Ryan High School.

The city which wins the annual tournament receives a traveling trophy to be kept for a year. Omaha teams have won the trophy for the three years that the tournament has existed.

But Streton is optimistic about Lincoln's chances this year. "Our Community Center drew with Boys Town, 21-21, last time out," he said. "Boys Town was undefeated against Omaha squads this season, so that's a good sign."

Streton said the preliminaries would begin at 6:30 Friday night, the semifinals at 1:30 Saturday afternoon and the finals Saturday night at 7:00.

"The matches will be wrestled one at a time with three one-minute periods," he said. "The officials have been ordered to refrain from calling quick pins, so that each boy has time to show what he can do."

'C' All-State Team Features Tall Lads

... 6-8 LAUER LEADS

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Topped by Gibbon's 6-8 Kurt Lauer, the Sunday Journal and Star's 1964 All-State Class C basketball team is one of the rangiest honor squads ever selected in the class.

The Gibbon standout, earning repeat honors on the all-state squad, is joined by Henderson's Ron Regier (6-5), Oakland's Leonard Canarsky (6-3 1/2), Utica's Roger Elrod (6-2 1/2) and Tecumseh's Chuck Lacey (6-2).

Lauer is one of the greatest scorers ever to perform in Nebraska prep ranks. He boosted his career total to 2,247 with a final year production of 956 points in 25 games.

Hitting on 70% of his shots from the field, he averaged 38.2 points per game for the Buffaloes.

He has the best scoring marks ever recorded in state tourney play, getting 105 in three games in 1963 and 100 in three 1964 contests. He also holds the single game mark of 46 points in Class C tournament action.

Regier led Henderson to its best record in history (21-2) with his scoring (25.5) and rebounding (17.7).

The Henderson stalwart hit a season high of 61 points against Millford and pulled down 32 rebounds on two separate occasions during the season. He connected on 59% of his shots from the field.

Canarsky was the top performer on the Oakland squad which finished with a 17-4 record.

The rugged senior averaged 21 points a game and used his height to advantage in rebounding battles.

Elrod is perhaps the top all-around performer in Class C ranks.

The smooth senior averaged 17.9 points per game and was a solid team man for the Tigers. He was an outstanding rebounder, averaging 19.3 per game, and his timing and quickness made him a good defensive player as well.

Lacey, a member of four Tecumseh state tourney teams, made his mark against rugged competition. He compiled a 21.5 scoring average in a schedule loaded with Class B schools.

The 6-2 senior could operate from any spot on the court and was an effective defensive man and rebounder.

Pressing the five selections for first team honors were Scribner's Mike Lamberty, East Butler's Alois Hottovy, Norfolk Burns' Craig Kinsella, Wausa's Iro Johnson and Waverly's John Westland.

May I fix you a drink, Mr. Simms?

Power Lacking In Oriole Attack

... BAUER MAY WONDER WHY BALTIMORE JOB LOOKED SO GOOD

Miami, Fla. (UPI)—Hank Bauer, a stand up guy, may have to sit down sometime this season and wonder why he ever was so happy about being named manager of the Baltimore Orioles.

"A guy would have to be crazy not to want this job," Bauer beamed the day he replaced Billy Hitchcock last November.

Hank had good reason to be happy then. He had only one previous shot as a major league manager with Kansas City, was let out there at the end of 1962 and caught on as a coach with Baltimore in 1963.

He may, however, have equal good reasons to be unhappy before the year is out. The reason? No punch. And that could be a little tough for a two-fisted ex-Marine like Bauer to take.

Used to Power
He's used to plenty of power. Bauer saw it all around him as an active member of the Yankees for many years. Even the A's had ample punch during the year and a half he handled them. Their trouble was not pitching.

No matter how you analyze the Orioles, they still come up somewhat short at the plate. And they didn't strengthen their attack by dealing off Jim Gentile for Norm Siebern during the off-season.

Nevertheless, Bauer claims he's optimistic. Isn't every manager during spring training?

One of the big reasons he feels that way is John (Boog) Powell, a six-foot-three, 235-pound growing boy, who at 22 carries most of the Orioles' hopes.

Powell Best

Powell, Baltimore's left fielder, led the club in homers (25) and runs batted in (82) as a sophomore last year. Everyone thinks he can better those two totals along with his .265 average.

Another reason for Bauer's optimism is the blossoming of 25-year-old catcher John Orsino. He belted 19 homers, drove in 56 runs and batted .272.

The rest of Baltimore's power will have to come from fellows like Brooks Robinson, Siebern and either Willie Kirkland or Lou Jackson.

Robinson, a superb third baseman, tailed off to .251 last season. He'll have to at least 25 points to that mark and top his 11 homers and 67 rbi's if the Orioles are to improve on their fourth place finish of 1963.

Siebern Hoping

Siebern had 16 homers and 83 runs batted in with Kansas City and Bauer is hoping a change of scenery will benefit him. He hit .272 for the A's and will be the Orioles' regular first baseman.

The well-traveled Kirkland batted only .030 for Cleveland but the Orioles liked his 15 homers in 98 games and gave up Al Smith to get him. Jackson, not exactly a spring chicken at 28, batted .315 for Toronto, and had 31 homers and 89 rbi's.

Bauer says his outfield isn't set but it probably will be composed of Powell, Jackie Brandt and either Jackson or Kirkland or rookie Sam Bowens, who brings a .285 average from Rochester.

Russ Snyder and Joe Gaines are among the holdovers in the outfield.

Bauer claims he'll take the left side of his infield, Robinson at third and Luis Aparicio at short, over any other in the American League. The right side, with Jerry Adair at second and Siebern at first, isn't as strong defensively.

Johnson Impressive

The Orioles like the looks of Dave Johnson, a 21-year-old second baseman, but he probably needs more seasoning. That means that speedy Bob Saverine and Bob Johnson will be kept for utility duty.

Dick Brown will back up

Orsino behind the plate as he did last season.

Baltimore's pitching, once the best in the league, was only fourth best, last year. Part of the reason was the unavailability of Chuck Estrada, who subsequently underwent arm surgery.

Estrada had an inconsequential 3-2 record last year and Bauer says he is not counting on him this year because the 25-year-old right-hander is a question mark. But Estrada has looked more like an exclamation mark this spring and if he turns out to be as good as he looks, the Orioles suddenly have another starter who could win anywhere from 15 to 20 games.

"What a bonus that would be for us if he comes through," says Bauer.

Barber Leads

Southpaw Steve Barber heads the pitching staff. One of the best left-handers in the league, he had a 20-13 record last year and an earned run average of 2.75. He'll be one of Bauer's starters and right-handers Milt Pappas (16-9) and Robin Roberts (14-13) will be two of the others.

Left-handers Dave McNally (7-8) and Mike McCormick (6-8) are Baltimore's fourth and fifth starters unless one of the newcomers, like Dave Vineyard (8-6 at Rochester), Darold Knowles (16-7 at Elmir) or Wally Bunker (10-1 at Stockton) can cause Bauer to change the rotation.

The Orioles' bullpen could well be their finest department, with such capable hands as Stu Miller (5-8), Dick Hall (5-5) and Wes Stock (7-0) always ready and on call.

Veteran Harvey Haddix, purchased conditionally from the Pirates with whom he had a 3-4 record last season, has shown well so far and has at least a 50-50 chance of being retained as a reliever.

And that's what Bauer has inherited. He had a lot of headaches managing Kansas City and he may be in for a few at Baltimore.

Hank will be able to give you a first-hand report along about October.

King Dollar Tops Malone Center

King Dollar downed Malone Center, 32-25, while Eagle Raceway squeezed by University Place, 10-17, ending the third night of the Little Fry double elimination basketball tournament being held at the Salvation Army Community Center.

Both losses were the second for Malone Center and University Place, removing them from the tournament.

In action scheduled for Monday night, undefeated Havelock and Globe Laundry will tangle, while King Dollar will meet Eagle Raceway.

Bears Lead NFL In Interceptions

... TAYLOR IS CO-LEADER

New York (AP)—The Chicago Bears weren't an outstanding passing team in winning the 1963 National Football League championship but they excelled at intercepting enemy passes.

Official statistics released by the NFL show the Bears not only led the league with 36 interceptions, two more than the New York Giants, but they furnished the individual co-leader and three others in the top 12.

Roosevelt Taylor grabbed eight passes by opponents and tied the Giants' Dick Lynch for individual honors. Richie Petitbon intercepted seven and Bennie McRaie and Dave Whitsett six each.

Lynch set an NFL record when he returned three interceptions for touchdowns. One of his TDs was on an 82-yard runback and he also made the greatest distance on returns, 251 yards. Leroy Caffey of Philadelphia made the longest return, 87 yards against New York, with his only interception of the season.

State Won't Hand Sonny Pen Sentence

Denver (AP)—The state of Colorado won't attempt to send former heavyweight champion Sonny Liston to prison for carrying a concealed weapon.

Atty. Gen. Duke W. Dunbar said Thursday in a letter to Denver's assistant district attorney, Gregory A. Mueller, that it is questionable whether Liston could be charged with a felony — punishable by a penitentiary sentence — under a state law forbidding ex-convicts to carry concealed weapons.

The law says that it is an offense punishable by two to 10 years in the penitentiary for anyone convicted of a felony within the past 10 years to carry a concealed weapon.

Liston was convicted in St. Louis, Mo., in 1956, of assault with a dangerous weapon and was sentenced to nine months in the St. Louis City Work House.

Dunbar said the doubt of prosecution arises because Liston's conviction was outside the state.

Models Lead Lobo Cheers In NIT Semis

Albuquerque, N. M. (AP)—The University of New Mexico student government couldn't afford to send its yella leaders to the National Invitation Basketball Tournament, so a radio station group has hired four in New York.

The radio chain, headed by former New Mexico Gov. John Burroughs of Portales, hired four New York models to lead Lobo cheers in Thursday night's NIT semifinal against New York University.

Cassius May Be Hated For Muslim Activities—Louis

Seattle (AP)—Former heavyweight champion Joe Louis said Thursday that Cassius Clay may incur the public's hatred because of his connection with the Black Muslims.

"The things they preach are just the opposite of what we believe," Louis said. "The heavyweight champion should be the champion of all the people. He has responsibilities to all people."

The former champion said he was confident that Sonny Liston, who lost the title to Clay, would win it back in a return bout. He said Liston had made some mistakes in his career but was "on the way to becoming a good champion."

Torre Ends Holdout; Inks '64 Brave Pact

West Palm Beach, Fla. (AP)—Catcher — first baseman Joe Torre ended his long hold-out Thursday and agreed to terms for 1964 with the Milwaukee Braves.

Terms of the agreement, reached in a telephone conference between Torre at his home in New York and club president John McHale at Clearwater, Fla., were not disclosed. Torre had asked for a 100 per cent increase over his $17,500 salary of last year.

Rodriguez Picked By Odds-Makers To Defeat Mims

New York (AP)—Luis Rodriguez, the former welterweight champion, is expected to give away at least seven pounds to veteran middleweight Holley Mims Friday night when they meet in a 10-round match in Madison Square Garden.

But Rodriguez figures his youth and greater punching power will carry more weight than Mims' advantage on the scales.

The odds-makers agree. The Cuban, now residing in Miami, is a 2-1 favorite.

Help Coming

The 1964 University of Wyoming football team figures to get some good talent from its 1963 freshman team. The Frosh at Laramie won all four games while allowing only two touchdowns.

Your Merc dealer invites you to compare

Merc's
high-strength
design and construction with any competitor's
outboard

From their powerheads to their shear-pool props, Mercs are designed and constructed to last... with less maintenance and cost to you

The entire engine
block of a Merc is one-piece die-cast aluminum. There is no head gasket to blow... fewer joint faces to loosen and leak. The pistons in a Merc are forged aluminum... lighter in construction yet tougher,
more durable and cooler
running than the cast aluminum pistons found in most competitors' out-boards.

Mercury's aluminum drive shaft housing is the cast in one piece. It does not depend on the holding power of
nuts, bolts, studs
and miscellaneous
parts.

The forged
aluminum clamp brackets on a Merc are heat-treated to the strength of steel and are virtually unbreakable.
Even on the
higher horsepower
Mercs, the clamp
brackets have wing
bolts that clamp
to the transom... in addition to a provision for security bolts through the transom. The lower unit of a Merc has more backbone than that of any other outboard. It is die-cast in one piece to keep the husky gears and shafts permanently aligned. There is no protruding nose to snag rocks and logs or gather weeds. The gearshift is mechanical with no underwater electrical parts to short out. The Jet-Prop has no shear pins. It is spline driven and is protected by a live-
rubber safety
clutch that yields
momentarily on impact.

Kent Boyer and Curt Flood of St. Louis, Ron Santo and Dick Bertell of Chicago and Frank Robinson of Cincinnati were the only National Leaguers to get five hits in one game last season.

Bubb Says Wildcats On Their Own

Topeka, Kan. (UPI)—Henry A. Bubb, chairman of the Kansas Board of Regents, said Wednesday Kansas State University will have to find its own way out of its football doldrums.

Bubb, of Topeka, said football was not the responsibility of the regents.

The sum of $60,000 has been mentioned as the figure needed to keep Kansas State's football program operating in the black for the 1964 season.

A proposal to raise fees $5 a semester per student was brought up in Manhattan preceding the Board of Regents meeting Sunday, but the regents took no action on the matter.

Bubb said Wednesday however, "We're not going to raise fees."

He said if Kansas State wants to raise money for athletics through fees, it must be done through no increase in the total.

Bubb said it is up to Kansas State president James McCain to submit a proposal to the regents.

"I am almost certain the board will okay almost anything he submits that doesn't raise fees," he added.

Bubb said the regents would deal only with McCain and "We are not going to tell them (the students) they have to have a good football team."

Platte Valley Champs Dominate All-Loop '5'

Wahoo—Platte Valley champion Wahoo dominated the all-conference basketball squad with two selections, Jim Sandstedt and Gary Olson.

Others on the first team are Jim Dodge of North Bend, Bruce Hsieh of Ashland and Danny Bentz of Valley.

OU Football Star To Stay As Aide

Omaha, (UPI)—Carl Meyers, a star quarterback for the University of Omaha the past three seasons, has been hired as assistant coach.

The Board of Regents Thursday hired Meyers to serve as an assistant coach in football, basketball and baseball, beginning Sept. 1.

Meyers, who graduates in June, will also serve as an assistant instructor in physical education.

Not very many folks know as much about growing lawns in the Lincoln area as these lawn and garden dealers.

You'll find every one of them full of helpful suggestions and ideas to help you get the kind of lawn you want this year.

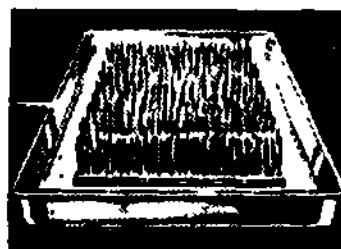

They have all the right ingredients for the job, too. For example: Vitogro, the rich one, complete nutritional treatment for grass. One of the best ways to keep a lawn green and beautiful all summer.

You'll find the lawn expert nearest you on the map above. Stop in and see how he can help you make your lawn behave this year.

So rich in nutrients...

Vitogro grows grass even without soil

Vitogro supplies all the nutrition your lawn needs for green, healthy growth—regardless of your soil. Vitogro is so rich, in fact, it can grow grass on sterile fiberglass. It's easy to use. Just one feeding greens your lawn from spring to fall.

Prevent Crabgrass all Summer

Vitogro Crabgrass Preventer kills crabgrass seedlings as they sprout. Contains Dacthal W60—proved 95% to 100% effective—and added plant food for a quick green-up. Harmless to children, pets and birds.
